ENERGY BALANCE Did you know you get your energy from calories? What you eat and drink is energy IN. What you burn through physical activity is energy OUT. We all burn a small amount of calories through our daily routine. We burn calories just from	breathing. People with active lifestyles burn more calories than those with not-so-active lifestyles. You should try to balance your energy IN and energy OUT. The more calories you take in, the more energy you should burn. Most people eat a lot more	calories and use a lot less energy. The average 60 minute television show averages 18 to 24 minutes of commercials. If you danced to music during the commercials instead of sitting and watching them, you could burn an extra 85 calories an hour. See what you can do to balance your energy IN and energy OUT.	Milk served with all meals. Got Milk??? 	1 Chicken & Spaghetti English Peas Fresh Fruit Salad Sliced Bread 	2 Turkey Sandwich Carrot Sticks/ Ranch Dressing Corn Strawberry Cup 	Get to Know Rusk Located on Main Street just off the square in Rusk near Brookshire Bros. is a local Confederate site that not too many people know about, the Sugar House. It was site of one of the sweetest battles ever. The Confederate government started a program to provide food to widows and poor families of
